Shopping

There are two types of people: shopaholics and those who hate shopping. I don't like shopping. I do little shopping during the week because I'm usually busy studying.

I try to do most of the shopping at the weekend when I have free time. I usually go to a supermarket where I can buy not only food.

I always make a shopping list not to forget anything. When I'm done with everything on the list, I head for the till and pay for my purchase.

When I don't want to spend time doing the shopping myself I choose what I need from an online catalogue; place my order on the site and wait for a courier to deliver it.

If I need some clothes I go shopping in a department store or a shopping centre because clothes there are cheaper than in boutiques. I never go to boutiques or upmarket shops because they are much more expensive and I can't afford them.
